

Project Sheet Avobar Covent Garden

Location London

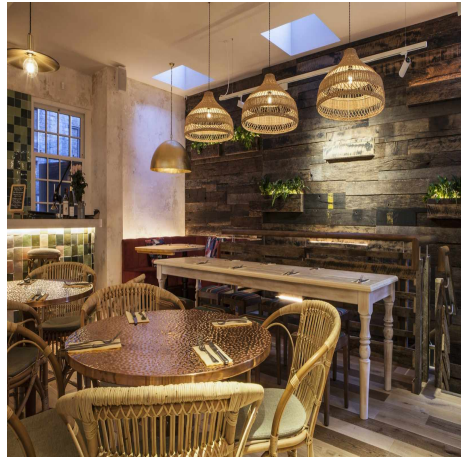

Timing 8 weeks

The intention for Avobar was to create a prominent superfood café within Covent Garden to supplement the new emerging market of healthy fast food. Avobar has become notorious from its aesthetically pleasing Californian style café with a tremendous use of timber and juxtaposing tiles. This has created a very welcoming aura when entering the café.

We worked diligently with Design LSM (Architect) and our client to deliver a distinctive fast food café with a contract value worth over £300,000 inside of 8 weeks. Our team operated exceptionally hard and efficiently to produce the project within budget along with minimal issues.

The 2250 square foot café has a prominent raft installation which has faux planting looped in between the rafts with glorious wicker light fittings. The ground floor comprises of slatted banquette seating with decorative cushions and bolsters with contrasting fading tile wall finish. The basement contains the kitchen, toilets and additional seating. Lastly, the curved retail counter provides the café with its main focal point due to excellent use of LED lighting and enhancing features.
